GENERAL VESSEL INFORMATION:

2007: The Danish coaster operator C. J. Helt & Co of Svendborg still believes in working in the old fashion way. Lately the company sold their old OTHONIA to a Miami-based operator for trading on the Caribbean as the FIFITA 500.

Hardly had the FIFITA 500 left Svendborg before the money earned from the selling was re-invested in a more modern and larger coaster IRMGARD. She was purchased from a Husum owner and renamed DANTIC, the vessel changed flag to St. Vincent & Grenadines.

The IRMGARD is on of five small coasters built by the Husumer Schiffswerft in the early 1980s as a last "we-still-believe-in-the-market" test. They were built for local captain-owners, but the idea turned out to be not so good as they were too small already by the delivery in 1980-1982. (bent mikkelsen - SCANDINAVIAN SHIPPING GAZETTE • MAY 21, 2007)

2011: The Laid up coaster DANTIC has been sold to a Norwegian buyer and is now underway to Kopervik in tow by the Danish tug Vitus. DANTIC, which has been Laid up at Svendborg since October 2009 when C. J. Helt & Co signed for bankruptcy, has been sold to Sveholmen Shipping A/S, Sævelandsvik, for a sum of EUR 425,000.

Andrea Shipping A/S, Nakskov, has mediated the sale. The 1,113 DWT DANTIC is built by Husumer Schiffswerft in 1981. The vessel was purchased by C. J. Helt & Co in 2007, and has been flying St. Vincent & Grenadines flag. Now only one ship is left in the fleet after the bankruptcy. That is SKANTIC, which still is Laid up at Svendborg.
