GENERAL VESSEL INFORMATION:

1992 erwarb Egon Oldendorff mit KAZIMIERZ PULASKI und TADEUSZ KOSCIUSKO erneut zwei Polish Ocean-Liner. Diese, in Frankreich als Teil eines französischpolnischen Joint Ventures gebauten 22.709tdw-Schiffe verfügten auf dem Roll on/Roll off-Deck über 544 m Fahrspurlänge sowie Kapazitäten für 1417 TEU und 675 Pkw im Unterraum. Die Polish Ocean Lines hatte nach Aufgabe ihres Nordatlantik-Dienstes keine Verwendung mehr für die noch jungen Schiffe, die als HINRICH OLDENDORFF und GEBE OLDEN-DORFF für die Rosebank Maritime Inc., Monrovia, in Fahrt kamen. Wenig später übernahm Oldendorff auch die beiden anderen Schiffe des polnisch-französischen Quartetts, STEFAN STARZYNSKI und WLADYSLAW SYKORSKI, die fortan GERDT OLDENDORFF und HUGO OL-DENDORFF hießen. GEBE OLDENDORFF wurde 1993 in Singapur zum Vollcontainerschiff mit BRZ 31.207 / 30.684 tdw / 2014 TEU umgebaut und zunächst als NEPTUNE LAZULI an Neptune Orient Lines und 1994 als SINGAPORE EXPRESS an Hapag-Lloyd verchartert. Weitere Chartern waren die als CHOYANG SYDNEY

(rechts, 2. von oben) bis 1996 und als MAERSK HAKATA (links). Inzwischen gehörte der 1991 in La Ciotat gebaute Frachter der britischen Blue Star Line, deren Name ASIA STAR er nur 1999 führte, seither fährt er als P & O NEDL-LOYD PIRAEUS. Blue Star übernahm auch die nicht zum Vollcontainerschiff umgebaute GERDT OLDENDORFF als AUSTRALIA STAR (unten). HUGO OLDENDORFF und GERDT OLDEN-DORFF wurden bereits 1994 an The National Shipping Company of Saudi Arabia (NSCSA) veräußert, die sie als SAUDI MAKKAH und SAUDI RIYADH im Liniendienst nach Fernost einsetzte. 2001 kaufte die italienische Reederei Ignazio Messina beide Schiffe, die nun JOLLY ORO und JOLLY ARGENTO heißen

 1993:

Vessels were ordered by Polish Ocean Lines (POL) from a French shipyard ("Poilish-French ships").

Oldendorff purchased the ship en bloc with sister vessels on low price level.

Egon Oldendorff rounded off the deal by taking over and placing under its house flag the remaining two 'Polish French' ships of the series early in 1993, the WLADYSLAW SIKORSKI renamed HUGO OLDENDORFF and the STEFAN STARZYNSKI as GERDT OLDENDORFF.

Egon Oldendorff sales not completed

8 December 1994 23:00 GMT UPDATED 8 December 1994 23:00 GMT By By Trond Lillestolen

Lubeck-based shipowner Egon Oldendorff says it has not yet sold its two

22,000-dwt combined Ro/Ro-containervessels Gerdt Oldendorff and Hugo

Oldendorff. Brokers report that the two 1981-built units have been sold for USD 22m en bloc.

Although the owner confirms there is some truth in the reports, it says nothing has been completed and no sale can be expected before January.

It is not willing to elaborate on reasons for the possible sale, other than to say they have to do with the company's fleet structure.

Large containerships GERDT OLDENDORFF(2) and HUGO OLDENDORFF (5) were sold to their Saudi Arabian timecharterers. (National Shipping Company of Saudi Arabia (NSCSA).) (www.oldendorff.com)

NEW SERVICE

Genoa-based line Ignazio Messina is set to launch a cargo route to the Iranian port of Bandar Abbas.

The service will be operated by three of its own vessels the 22,600-dwt conros Jolly Oro and Jolly Argento (both built 1981) and 2,000-teu boxship Jolly Platino (built 1990).

The Jolly Oro will leave Genoa on 30 October, with the others leaving at fortnightly intervals, according to Italian media.
