GENERAL VESSEL INFORMATION:

The Coast Guard Marine Safety Office, Anchorage is investigating the reefer SOHOH for possible tampering with pollution prevention equipment to treat oily water aboard. The vessel was found to have equipment capable of being used by the crew as a bypass which could allow the direct discharge of oily water overboard from the vessel. Earlier the reefer KHANA was found to have the same oily water separator set up on board. Both vessels make regular port calls at Dutch Harbour.
