GENERAL VESSEL INFORMATION:

2013: Oslo based project and investment company Atlantica Shipping was in the process of finalising a seventh deal.

The 1,730-teu WEHR OTTENSEN (built 1997) is in the process of being bought for $4.6m. It will be owned by a KS (limited partnership) company that is being set up by Platou Finans. Atlantica will be commercial manager and along with partners will have a stake of between 15% and 20% in the project. The prospectus for the new ownership company describes the business as an asset play. The prospectus suggests that the price is attractive as the vessel passed special survey last year and that the risk is limited given the estimated scrap value of $3.2m.

The WEHR OTTENSEN has been owned by a German KG (limited partnership) company and operated by Reederei Oskar Wehr.

Due to financial difficulties the KG company was forced to sell the ship. Wehr, a minority shareholder, has offered to invest 10% of the equity in the new Norwegian ownership outfit and maintain technical management.
