GENERAL VESSEL INFORMATION:2002:

Aptly named P&O NEDLLOYD REMUERA the vessel is the first of 10 "Albatross" class of 4100 teu capacity container carriers that will link Australia and New Zealand with the US East coast and Northern & Southern Europe. The 7 vessels to be operated by P&O NEDLLOYD will be actually owned by Germany's Reederei C.P. Offen, chartered for eight years by the Anglo-Dutch mega-carrier and will sail alongside 3 similar vessels owned by the service partner, the CP Ships subsidiary Contship Containerlines. Among their impressive specifications is a refrigerated container capacity for 1300 units.

Following delivery by Samsung H.I. the vessel sailed for Shanghai to load the first containers. After Shanghai she proceeded on a largely flag waving voyage to New Zealand and Australia, during she was christened at Auckland on 10th February 2002.

After her maiden voyage P&O NEDLLOYD REMUERA returned to New Zealand in late March to take her place in the present eastbound service to Europe, the full service not getting under way until the end of 2002 when her sister vessels are all in service.

P&O NEDLLOYD REMUERA is registered in Liberia and in their usual tradition, the Offen company has designated her their company name SANTA RAFAELA, which she will assume when the charter ceases.

The SANTA RAFAELA, SANTA RICARDA and SANTA ROBERTA are currently on charter to Hapag-Lloyd, who uses them on its Med Pacific Express Service operated jointly with Hamburg Süd. The SANTA ROMANA and SANTA ROSANNA have been recently fixed by MSC for its South American trades. As for the SANTA REBECCA and SANTA RUFINA, they are on charter respectively to CMA CGM and Simatech.

The current charter parties of the vessels are due to expire in 2015 except for the SANTA RUFINA whose charter with Simatech is due for expiry around August this year.

SFL in high reefer panamax swoop

NYSE-listed Ship Finance International Limited (SFL) has announced the purchase of seven 2002-built, 4,100 teu container vessels from the German KG market. This purchase is backed by 5.5 year time charter contracts to an as yet unnamed liner operator with purchase options at the end of the employments.

Although SFL does not name the ships, it is believed that the vessels involved in the transaction are the high-reefer, Claus Peter Offen-controlled, Samsung-built SANTA RAFAELA, SANTA REBECCA, SANTA RICARDA, SANTA ROBERTA, SANTA ROSANNA, SANTA ROMANA and SANTA RUFINA, which are part of a ten-ship series known as the 'Albatros' Class. These panamax vessels feature 1,300 reefer plugs, an exceptionally high number for ships of this size, and are in demand by carriers involved in reefer-intensive trades. They were initially built for long term employment on the Europe-ANZ services of P&O Nedlloyd.

SFL swoops for seven

Ship Finance International (SFL) has moved quickly to boost its fleet just days after cancelling a pair of newbuildings.

The John Fredriksen-controlled shipowning venture has dipped into the German KG market for seven 2002-built boxships.

The 4,100-teu ships come with long-term charters to a leading container line which holds purchase options on all seven exercisable after an average of 5.4 years, it said today.

Santa Rs

SFL does not name the ships involved which it says should each add around $10m per year in ebitda for the duration of the charters.

However market sources suggest the vessels are the seven Santa-R-class boxships owned by Reederei Claus-Peter Offen on which insolvency proceedings began towards the end of last year.

As TradeWinds has reported the vessels, which are financed by MPC Capital, were thought to have been marketed for around $10m each.

The ships in question are the Santa Rafaela, Santa Rebecca, Santa Ricarda, Santa Roberta, Santa Romana, Santa Rosanna and Santa Rufina.

Recent charter rates are thought to be around $8,000 per day.
